Become a PA Historian:
How to Save, Study and Share the Story of PAs, our History and Legacy

2-Day PA Historian Boot Camp
September 26 & 27, 2019

- Is your office stacked with old PA papers, PA photos and other PA memorabilia?*
- Do your fellow PAs consider you “the expert” on why PAs were established?*
- Do you find yourself talking with friends about PA history?*
- When you’re on an airplane, do you share the history of the PA profession with your seatmate?*

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions, you might just be a PA Historian wannabe! Attend the PA History Society’s exciting two-day interactive “PA Historian Boot Camp” and learn how to become a PA Historian for your institution/organization and the profession. Comments from the September 2018 PA Historian Boot Camp participants:

“I would recommend this class to all colleagues interested in becoming a PA historian.”

Participants will learn how to:

1. Organize and preserve historical documents
2. Attain archival skills for research and study
3. Become an advocate for PA History and the profession
4. Develop techniques to creatively write and speak about PA History

Objectives: By the end of the Boot Camp, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the role and duties of a historian and explain why capturing and understanding PA history is important.
2. Use the PA History Society's Historian Toolkit as a beginner's guide and reference.
3. Understand the role and work of archivists; learn how to identify, collect, arrange, describe, and preserve historical documents for yourself and your organization.
4. Learn how to access and use historical documents found in institutional and other repositories to help with personal research.
5. Appreciate the use of oral history methodologies to capture the recollection of individuals about historical events, personal challenges and life experiences, while understanding the ethical and legal issues involved.
6. Appreciate the use of timelines and milestones to provide a chronological overview of an organization's history and learn how to develop a timeline for their own institution or organization.
7. Use the PA History Society's Educational Toolkit and website to teach PA students and others about the history of the PA profession.
8. Appreciate and understand the various methodologies used to "tell the story" of the PA profession, such as memoirs and biographies, PowerPoint slides, poster presentations, and the use of social media networks.

Sign up today for the PA Historian Boot Camp and soon you'll be cleaning off your desk and organizing those important documents into proper archival storage and making displays for the next generation of PAs to enjoy!
